ROBBER ESCAPES ACROSS RIVER IN SKIFF--CAUGHT

Knocks Down Farmer With Sandbag and Steals $115
From His Pocket.

Accessory Arrested in This City Confesses to Part.

KERRY SLAYDEN IS VICTIM

After knocking Kerry Slayden, a young farmer residing near Bandana who had come to the city with a load of tobacco and sold it, in the head with a sand-bag, Wood Jones, a well known character to the police, robbed Slayden of about $115 and then skipped to Brookport, where he purchased himself new clothes and started for Carbondale, Ill., but his trip was cut short at Metropolis by Marshal William Wiatt. Jesse Edwards was arrested as an accomplice in the robbery. Slayden had about $115 in his pockets, but $35 was left untouched in another pocket.

Slayden had gone to Jackson's foundry, on First street, after a piece of machinery and then went into the alley back of Sam Starks' saloon, on Second street, to prepare his wagon to start home. It is alleged Jesse Edwards and Wood Jones followed Slayden into the alley and Edwards tried to hit him, but failed. Then Jones used the sand-bag, and both began a search through Slayden's pockets. The farmer was stunned for several minutes, but fought the pair as best he could. Slayden made an outcry and persons saw Jones and Edwards escaping from the alley to Broadway. Patrolmen Cross and Johnson were soon on Jones' trail, and followed him to the Illinois Central line, where Jones gave a negro $2 to pull him across the river. The patrolmen arrived after Jones was in the river, and then they telephoned to Brookport and Metropolis to catch Jones.

Jones went to Brookport and gave his old clothes to a negro and bought a complete outfit of furnishings and bought a ticket for Carbondale, Marshall Wiatt met the train at Metropolis and arrested Jones. He agreed to return without requisition papers, and was brought to the city on the Dick Fowler last night.

Patrolmen Johnson and Cross caught Edwards while he was standing watching a religious service at Third street and Broadway yesterday afternoon. He told the patrolmen that Jones beat him to the money and he did not get a cent. He admitted trying to strike Slayden, but says the farmer was a good dodger.

Of the money taken Jones had $53.47 when arrested. When brought in court this morning he resembled a sport, but when the pair were returned to the jail Jones was content to wear a pair of overalls, as all the clothes were given to the farmer and the inquest money returned to him. When the pair were presented in police court this morning they waived examination and were held over to the grand jury next April.

Slayden said he had only taken two drinks early in the morning, but he will return to his home in Bandana a wiser man. Slayden's eye was bruised by the sand-bag and several cuts were made on his face.

5,000,000 POUNDS OF TOBACCO IS DELIVERED.

Henderson, Ky., Jan. 23.—By Secretary J. N. Banks, of the Stenning District association, it was reported this morning that 5,128,395 pounds of pooled tobacco have been delivered to association factories in the Stenning district.

This city received 5,000,000, as Hopkins, Union, Webster and Henderson counties compose the Stenning district.

The Imperial has bought the tobacco, and already received one-fifth of it.

TARGET PRACTICE THREE MONTHS BEFORE SUICIDE

New York, Jan. 23.—May Roberts Clark, who shot and killed Frank Brady and then committed suicide, practiced pistol shooting for three months. Her friends say she expected to marry Brady and that his refusal drove her insane. A diary kept by the woman tells of her love for Brady. It is not known if her husband was living.

Two Paducahans Claiming Title to One Hundred Thousand Acres of East Tennessee Mountain Land.

H. C. Atwood and Owen Wylie
"Squat" on Top of Walden's
Ridge and Inhabitants are Up in Arms Over it.

Chattanooga, Tenn., Jan. 23.—There is trouble in the air on Walden's ridge and parties coming down from the heights yesterday reported the whole mountain top was agog with rumors and reports. Walden's ridge has had troubles of its own ever since it was a mountain, and there have been feuds, fuses and excitable things innumerable among the residents of this elevated suburb of Chattanooga.

The source of the trouble this time is the presence of two parties who are said to be laying claim to the ownership of approximately the whole mountain top.

The two are Harry C. Atwood and Owen Wylie, who came to Walden's ridge about a year ago from Paducah, Ky. They came quietly and for a long time no one seemed to know just why they came. Within the last month or six weeks, however, it has leaked out, and now they constitute a storm center likely to burst at almost any time. The two said "nothing to nobody," but quietly proceeded to clear up two patches of ground about thirty acres in extent at Edward's Point and near the Hurst Cabin Springs, and there they proceeded to erect cabins.

The property upon which they have located is owned by the Chattanooga Company, limited, and has been since about 1888. Attention was attracted to the two alleged "squatters" by surveyors who were observed running lines about what will amount to about 25,000 acres of land on top of the mountain. On this land are numerous settlers who have built their homes there, and have resided there for a number of years. Finally someone, no one knows just who, mustered up sufficient courage to inquire what authority the new comers had for taking up all the land they had. The inquisitive one was informed that Atwood's father, grandfather, uncle, great uncle or some other relative, had originally owned the entire top of the mountain, or at least 100,000 acres of it under an old land grant. This land grant had descended to Harry Atwood, one of the two "squatters" who put in an appearance last year.

Having secured the old grant he came here and proceeded to take possession regardless of the fact of the land having been in possession of other owners for more than twenty-one years. If the newcomers establish their rights they will secure possession of the best property on the mountain. T. B. Murray, of the firm of Murray & Murray, attorneys for Atwood and Wylie, stated last night in reply to the question that he knew nothing as to what his clients claimed in the matter, but understood they were basing their claims upon an old grant. However, the attorneys for the Chattanooga Company, Ltd., have been keeping a watch on the alleged squatters and it is understood will take any action necessary at the proper time.

HOODOO ENGINE, THAT FIGURED IN THREE ACCIDENTS SENT TO MEMPHIS

Everybody Glad to See Old
"2004" Sent Away From Paducah
Wishing no One Bad Luck.

Illinois Central engineers and roundhouse employees received with great satisfaction the news yesterday that engine No. 2004, which has been in more serious accidents than any other engine handled at Paducah, has been ordered to Memphis to be used on the passenger run between Memphis and Cairo.

According to some of the engineers, the big engine is ill fated, and bad luck attends it on every trip. The engine is the one that turned over in the Fulton yards and caused the death of Engineer Pat Grogan, and is the same engine that ran down the party at the Tennessee street crossing, while they were returning from a moonlight picnic in a wagon, several of the party being crippled for life. The last accident, which occurred within a few yards of the spot where the picnic party was run down, was when the engine ran into an open switch two weeks ago and William Burch, the engineer, was seriously injured.

or time to secure possession of the land. Some of the residents of the mountain have become very much alarmed over the prospect of being ousted from their homes. Accordingly, as one party expressed it who has recently made a trip through the section affected, "there will likely be a squabble hunt on the mountain unless the squatters go mighty slow."

Walden's ridge is a lowlying outshoot of the Cumberland mountain, about 2,000 feet high, that is cut off sharply by the Tennessee river in its meanderings through East Tennessee. The part of the ridge referred to lies about four miles north of Chattanooga next to the river, and is covered with woods and full of coal and iron.

OLD MEMBERS DO NOT SEEK REAPPOINTMENT

Mayor Smith has not as yet made his selections for the board of public works, and may not do so for several days yet.

"There is no hurry in the matter," he said today, "as I am anxious to secure men of the greatest ability and highest character, of course, I shall need a little time for consideration."

The mayor commented on the excellent work the present board has done. It is not known whether any of the present board will be reappointed, but from reliable sources it is learned that none of the members is very anxious to serve again, as they assume they have contributed their share of work to the city, and some one else may now have the honors, if any, that go with the position.

The positions are very thankless ones. Probably as important as any official positions in the city government, they require a great deal of time, and the compensation is hardly anything—$100 a year.

THE WEATHER.

Generally fair tonight and Friday; cold waves. Highest temperature yesterday, 53; lowest today, 27.

SUE TOBACCO TRUST

Louisville, Jan. 23.—From an authoritative source it has been learned that a suit is in preparation for Basil Doerhoefer and the Monarch Tobacco Works, which he controls, against the American Tobacco company and the Mergel Box company, asking $1,000,000 in damages on the charge of conspiracy to ruin the plaintiff's business.

WALTER WARNER

Mr. Walter A. Warner, son of Albert Warner, died at 3:30 o'clock this morning after a two days' illness of appendicitis at the home of his sister, Mrs. Nana Anderson, on the Blandville road. He was 22 years old, being the eldest boy in the family. He is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Nana Anderson and Miss Susie A. Warner, and three brothers, Ivan, John and William, and his father, Mr. Albert Warner. The funeral was held this afternoon at 3 o'clock and the burial was in New Hope cemetery.

WARLIKE ARE PREPARATIONS AT WASHINGTON

All Signs Point to Unusual Preparations to be Prepared for Possible War.

Orders for Examination of Senior Class at West Point.

TO BE GRADUATED AT ONCE

Washington, Jan. 23.—Under instructions from President Roosevelt, Secretary of War Taft today issued orders for the meeting of a board of officers immediately in West Point to examine the first class in the United States military academy, so that all of those that are qualified may immediately become officers in the army without waiting for the regular period of graduation.

This order, which had been known in advance in army circles for the past month, follows out the general plan of the government today to make war preparations in time of peace. There has never been a period since the civil war when there was such activity in the army and in the navy.

Powder mills belonging to the government in Delaware will start operations on Monday next, and will run at their full capacity for a considerable period. The so-called powder trust has received a larger order than was given during the Spanish-American war.

The Japanese naval department presumably does precisely the same thing that the navy department in Washington does today, that is, to give out officially word that ships arrive at or leave any given port, but it is learned that great military preparations are under way in various parts of the island kingdom.

Little is known here about the fortifications of forts in Formosa. The only knowledge possible to get is that Japan has been constructing in two forts fortifications that are without parallel so far as the importance of the island is concerned. Representatives of the United States who have tried to get permission from Japan to visit Formosa have been delayed on various pretexts.

Battleship Mississippi in Commission

Philadelphia, Pa., Jan. 23.—The battleship Mississippi, constructed at Cramp's shipyards in this city, arrived at the League Island navy yard today from the yard of the builders, and was formally turned over to the government. When the big battleship docked at the navy yard Captain John C. Frazer took command. No time will be lost in fitting the Mississippi for service. More than one hundred apprentices left the Newport training station yesterday for this city, and upon their arrival will be assigned to the Mississippi. A draft of sailors will be brought here for the battleship from the Norfolk navy yard.

SHIP SUBSIDY BILL BOBS UP IN HOUSE COMMITTEE.

Washington, Jan. 23.—The ship subsidy bill bobbed up in a new form and in a new committee of the house today. It is now known as the ocean mail service bill, and is before the committee on postoffices and post roads. It provides for doubling the pay, per mile to steamships carrying ocean mail between this country and Europe and some parts of the Orient and Australia. It was introduced by Representative Humphrey, of Washington.

In order to get further evidence the case against Ephraim Pervine, colored, charged with murder, was continued in police court this morning until Monday morning. The police are still working on the case, and are tracing every rumor to earth, but it is stated that the police have found nothing to contradict Pervine. The story told by the negro of Phelps' trying to enter his house on North Tenth street and the shooting followed, has not been undermined.

Many people affirm that Phelps did not drink, but it is said some evidence has been found that Phelps fell over an empty barrel in the gutter and was covered with

DOCTORS GIVE TESTIMONY IN THAW CASE

New York, Jan. 23.—Dr. Charles L. Bailey, of Albany, was the first witness in the Thaw trial today. He attended Thaw when he was ill on a train. He considered his acts irrational. Dr. Charles G. Wagner began his testimony as to Thaw's mental condition during which a lengthy legal argument followed. Wagner told of his talks with the defendant, and said he was exceedingly dictatorial. Thaw told him he never intended attacking White, but that Providence took the matter in hand.

Wagner insisted that Thaw's attitude while he was talking about himself that of an irresponsible person. Dr. Wagner testified that Thaw said to him that he had asked Jerome who is now seeking to send him to the electric chair, to have White brought to justice. Thaw's appeal was turned down by Jerome, who believed it wasn't actuated by high-minded motive.

SCHOOLS TO COST CITY $52,710 IS THE ESTIMATE

School trustees have asked the finance committee of the general council to make the school levy 45 cents on the $100, instead of 35 cents, the extra 10 per cent being for the purpose of creating a sinking fund to pay off a floating debt of $15,688, incurred in building two new schools. The total estimated expense, including the floating debt; salaries, $47,400; superintendent, $3,230; and buildings, $7,690, will be $74,008.50, while the state will furnish $21,297.50, leaving $52,710.98 for the city to raise. The matter will come before the committee in February when the levy is made up.

COLD WAVE MAKES DEALERS REGRET COAL WAR

No, there was not any snow on the ground this morning, but when the early morning risers awoke they were startled at the transformation of spring weather to winter blizzards. While the government thermometer only puts the temperature at 27, a cold, stiff wind blew all day and made overcoats and furs seem a real pleasure. Until 3 o'clock this morning the pleasant weather continued, but then the chilling wind came up and made it uncomfortable out of doors. For tonight the weather man predicts colder weather, and a cold wave. Citizens are thanking the coal dealers for their war on prices, and the coal dealers regret they can not get a flag of truce and give the prices another boost.

HUNDRED SHOTS EXCHANGED WITH DAY RAIDERS

Had Just Returned From Second Trip and Had Coaled,
Settling Deep in Water When Squall Broke Forth.

When a river squall reached Paducah this morning the Charles Turner, a towboat belonging to Captain John Rollins, sank at the wharfboat about 4 o'clock with all the crew but the captain on board. The boat was tied up just below the wharfboat at the foot of Broadway and was heavily coaled ready to leave for the Tennessee this morning. The crew did not observe the water that was running in the boat when the waves struck her side, till it was too late to do any good. Clint Childs was the watchman.

The stern of the boat sank ten feet in the water, but the bow did not sink, as she was tied up close to the bank and the bow was on the river bottom.

Captain Rollins carried no insurance on the Turner, but had been intending to get insurance for the past two weeks. He purchased the boat December 6, 1907, from the estate of Captain E. Gordon, of Pittsburgh, and had only made two trips, towing ties from the Tennessee river for the Joyce-Watkins-Tie company of Joplin, known as the "Yellow Spot" Tie company.

The Turner sank in five minutes, due to the heavy coaling that was given her yesterday by the West Kentucky Coal company. The coal is being taken off her today and she will be raised as soon as possible and repaired for river work. Captain Rollins does not know just how much his loss will be, but thinks it will be about $2,000 or $2,500.

The greatest loss will be to the machinery and the expense of raising the boat. The boat itself is not damaged very much.

BRYAN AND HARMON BOOMED AT NASHVILLE

Nashville, Tenn., Jan. 23.—William Jennings Bryan and Judge Judson Harmon were royally entertained today by Nashville, and thousands of Democrats from all over the state of Tennessee gathered here to do honor to the two distinguished Democrats. The Nashville Tennesseean started a boom to run Judge Harmon as the vice presidential candidate on the Democratic ticket with Mr. Bryan and the suggestion was taken up with great enthusiasm.

PARK APPROPRIATION WILL BE REDUCED

Mayor Smith is still engaged in scrutinizing the expenditures of the city with a view of ascertaining if there is anything that can be deducted this year, as a measure of economy. He has decided to recommend reductions in several appropriations chief of which will be the park appropriation. The mayor is a great believer in parks, but, as he points out, this year we must economize in everything and so this appropriation may get the knife to the extent of $2,500.

GLASS BLOWERS ASSOCIATION DISSOLVED

Cleveland, Jan. 23.—Common Pleas Judge Phillips will tomorrow give an order dissolving the Amalgamated Window Glass Workers' association because the union violates the anti-trust laws. The suit was brought by cutters and fitters, who alleged they were being discriminated against by the blowers and gatherers, who form a majority of the union. One hundred thousand dollars in the treasury must be disposed of.

POLICE STOP SOCIALIST PARADE AT CHICAGO

Chicago, Ill., Jan. 23.—With 700 armed patrolmen facing them on the lake front the socialists today decided to call off their parade of 50,000 unemployed men in the city, which had been planned. The police ordered the men to disperse. Ben L. Reitman, who is styled "King of Tramps" and a socialist leader, prepared a petition to the mayor demanding assistance for working men. He asked that the men be put to work cleaning the streets. Many anarchists were in the crowd and the police feared the results if the men were allowed to

FIRE IN ROWLANDTOWN

Fire destroyed three gunbarrel houses on Thompson avenue, in the rear of Forest park, in Rowlandtown this morning about 2 o'clock, entailing a loss of about $500. The houses were owned by Mr. I. L. Da Vies, and were totally destroyed. The tenants occupying the houses moved out all the household furniture before damage was done. Station No. 3 and the truck from No. 4 answered the alarm. Several times the buildings in the park grounds were in danger, but each time the firemen by hard fighting confined the blaze to the three houses, which were close together.

PULL FORCE

OPERATORS DECLARE UNION MINERS' STATEMENT FALSE.

Claim to Produce Statistics Showing That Strike Has Not Affected Them.

Barlington, Ky., Jan. 23.—The attention of several non-union coal operators in Hopkins and adjoining counties was called this morning to a report sent out from national headquarters of the United Mine Workers at Indianapolis yesterday, which said: "Among the first things to be considered by the national convention will be the strike in the Hopkins field in Kentucky. It began January 1, and about 2,000 men are out at this time."

Operators interviewed, representing a large majority of the non-union miners in the counties of Hopkins, Christian, Union and Webster, give in detail statistics as to the number of miners employed in the non-union mines of these counties. They state that the total number of men employed to operate the non-union mines of these four counties upon a normal basis with all places filled is 3,700 and say that practically all these mines are working with full forces and producing normal outputs of coal. The list of men at work, as made up, totals 3,698. In Hopkins county the actual figures obtained are: St. Bernard, 1,500; Henecke, 225; Victoria, 200; Crabtree, 160; Nortonville, 98; other smaller mines, 250; total, 2,433. The West Kentucky Coal company, operating in Union and Webster, reports a full force of 700 men at work. In Christian county the Empire company has about 125 men, which is a full force. The Oak Hill mine in this county is at work today after a shut-down on account of court proceedings and embarrasments from the union. Other small mines report forces at work which bring the grand total up to approximately 3,700.

Providence, R. I., Jan. 27.—The state of Rhode Island, after being represented by a single United States senator for the past year, today chose George Peabody Wetmore to succeed himself, his previous term having terminated in 1906. The election was on a strict party vote, Mr. Wetmore, the Republican candidate, winning over Col. R. H. I. Goddard. Five Republicans cast a complimentary vote for Col. S. P. Colt.

SIMPLE WASH CURES ECZEMA.

Itching, Burning Skin Disease Routed Without Use of Injurious Drugs.

Great inventors often have been praised for surrendering the secrets of their discoveries. Practically the same thing has happened in the medical world in the case of Dr. DeCatur D. Dennis, the eminent skin specialist of Chicago.

Dr. Dennis, in his own office practice, discovered that pure vegetable oil of wintergreen, properly mixed with other simple remedies was practically a sure specific for Eczema, psoriasis, barber's itch, salt rheum, and other itching skin diseases. But the oil of wintergreen alone was found ineffective. It required other mild ingredients such as glycerine and thymol compounded with the wintergreen to produce the real Eczema cure.

This compounded D. D. D. Prescription positively takes away the itch at once—this instant it is applied to the skin. This vegetable liquid does away with deleterious drugs so long used in an attempt to doctor the blood, whereas modern science has determined that eczema is first and all the time a skin disease.

If you want to know more about the merits of D. D. D. Prescription, call at our store. We vouch for this remedy. R. W. Walker & Co., Fifth street and Broadway.

WAR STATUS

OF UNITED STATES OUTLINED BY ORDINANCE CHIEF.

General Crozier Tells What Equipment Government Has for Defense.

Washington, Jan. 23.—Brigadier General Crozier, chief of the bureau of ordinance, U. S. A., in the course of a statement made today to the house committee on military affairs, which had under consideration the army appropriation bill, gave some interesting information concerning the government's preparation against the possible war needs of the future. General Crozier said that the United States had now on hand enough rifles to equip 731,000 infantry. The Krag-Jorgensen, of which there are 400,000, are being replaced rapidly by the new weapon known officially as the model of 1903, of which 331,000 already are in use or on hand. As fast as the 1903's are distributed the Krags are stored for emergency use by the volunteers, or apportioned among the several militias. General Crozier said the government and private factories were to run two shifts a day 1,500 of the new rifles could be turned out daily.

The United States has on hand 60,000,000 rounds of Krag-Jorgensen ammunition and 22,000,000 rounds of ammunition for the new model.

General Crozier adverted to the fact that when all of the states have complied with the federal provision extending monetary aid to such militia organizations as conform their organization, equipment and discipline to that of the regular army, the regular army of 60,000 men can be augmented at quick notice by 110,000 state troops.

The estimates for the army appropriation bill are $32,000,000, as against $78,000,000 appropriated by the last congress.

They were sentenced to the workhouse by Judge Kinkade, as the result of their conviction, and the court interfered with those sentences only so far as to hold that they should have been sentenced to the jail instead, and they are sent back to be resentenced. THEATRICAL NOTES

"Quincy Adams Sawyer."

"Quincy Adams Sawyer" pleased a good-sized audience at The Kentucky last night. It was the same old story of New England life, and the company was strong enough to bring out the good features of the play. The comedy in the piece is wholesome and twined throughout the play is sufficient love to keep the audience in absolute attention. The part of Quincy Adams Sawyer was well taken by West LaFay, and as a character for the keystone of the play gave universal satisfaction. Miss Bertha Van Norman, who took the part of Miss Pittenille, the blind girl, had the sympathy of the audience so well in her portrayal of the part, and in her love story the interest was intense. All of the other parts were in capable hands, but Miss Carpenter as Helen Maxwell, a rollicking country chum, deserves more than ordinary mention for his work.

"The Great Divide."

Tonight Henry Miller's big production, "The Great Divide," will be the hit at the Kentucky theater. Although the story and Miss Anglin are not with the road production, Mr. Miller personally supervised rehearsals, and exercised great care in selecting notes for the two leading parts, with the result that critics in cities like Memphis have agreed that nothing is lost from the original, many of the original cast remaining in the parts for which they seemed perfectly adapted.

"Isle of Spice."

It doesn't take much power of deduction to figure out that if it costs several thousand dollars to produce an ordinary musical comedy, it must cost a small fortune to launch an extraordinary extravaganza like the "Isle of Spice." H. C. Whitney's pungent musical mixture. This attraction will return to The Kentucky next Wednesday evening.

Mrs. Leslie Carter in "Du Barry." Mrs. Leslie Carter the most famous emotional actress that the American stage has produced, will present David Belasco's play, "Du Barry," at The Kentucky on Friday January 31.

Mrs. Carter's success in this play has been one of the most remarkable known to the modern stage. Following her tremendous triumph as "Zaza" it was a mere question whether Mrs. Carter's art had not reached its apex. Zaza sounded all the depths of human emotions. Her achievements as an emotional actress had been so surprising, her advancement had been so meteoric, so astounding and unexampled that there seemed nothing left for this remarkable actress in the way of further accomplishment.

The possibilities of there being a great play in the career of Jeanette Vanburen, otherwise the famous La Du Barry, of the court of Louis XV, had long been uppermost in Mrs. Carter's mind.

Daily Thought.
Modesty is one of the principal ingredients in the composition of a truly great man.

SCHOOL LAW AMENDMENTS.

Nothing will accomplish more at one stroke for the Paducah public school system than reducing the board from an unwieldy body of factions and cliques, representing sections of the city, to a body of five men, chosen from the city at large. It is almost impossible for a large body to avoid taking sides on personal and administrative questions, and when men are elected from wards, some, who seek preferment from personal motives, are apt to get on the tickets. When a person has a project to get through, he can see seven members, secure a majority, and ignore the other five, who are bound to resent it. Yet it must be a nuisance, even for the superintendent to have to see so many of the troubles of our school boards in the past would have been avoided, if the boards had been composed of fewer men, closer together, and feeling a direct responsibility for the condition of the schools.

The Woman's club deserves credit for taking this first step to secure changes in the school system. Wisdom is manifested in requiring normal school certificates for teachers and an increased school levy. It would be folly to require teachers to take a normal course, and then pay them salaries, of which we ought to be ashamed. It would be equally foolish to increase the salaries of teachers, who do not take sufficient interest in their calling to make it a profession.

The foregoing amendments to the law are wise; but we cherish no illusions about the plan to require of trustee eligible to hold a teacher's second class certificate. We should rather prefer men, eligible to a first class trustee's certificate. All that is required of a school trustee is honesty, common honesty and a good disposition. But these qualities are scarce enough to make a school board a distinguished body of men.

The superintendent and faculty are supposed to furnish the scholarly attainments and knowledge of pedagogy and allied branches, and the more the trustees permit the superintendent to run the school system, the better they will fulfill the functions of the board. A teacher's second class certificate would not enable him any better to judge of the merits of the superintendent's theories. We should have to bring their requirements up on a par with his, plus experience, to do that.

The school board is a business board, and it must look after the financial end of the school system. True, it elects the superintendent and teachers, but neither the possession of a normal school certificate by the teacher, nor eligibility for a teacher's second class certificate on the part of the trustees, will enable them to judge the relative ability of applicants. Only two people know that—the superintendent and the principal.

There are more changes, however, which would be valuable. The superintendent should be relieved of the petty details of the business administration. A permanent secretary, capable of looking after those matters, would add greatly to the efficiency of the school work.

Then, too, the proposed amendment to the school law, leaves the qualifications, the same as those for councilmen. Those qualifications, without reason, prohibit some of the best men from serving on a school board. For instance, officers of public service corporations, operating under franchises, or members of concerns having contracts with the city, are ineligible for councilmen and aldermen. Now, it may be we cannot trust our fellowmen in matters involving adversely their patriotism and public obligations and their allegiance to their clients and stockholders; but the same reasoning does not apply to school boards. We prohibit representatives of public service corporations sitting on a board, but wink at the presence of attorneys for book concerns.

The proposed qualification, eligibility for a teacher's second class certificate, will not hurt the schools, but it may hurt the chances of the other amendments going through, and the fact is, that all the troubles in Paducah's school boards have been caused by people capable of holding teachers' second class certificates.

Hughes' tact only into the presidential race makes the situation more interesting, and the quiet strength of the masterful man of Albany will be watched by the other aspirants. In spite of the charge that Hughes is backed by the Wall street crowd, that hates Roosevelt and Roosevelt policies, Hughes' support in many quarters will be spontaneous and honest. He will be satisfactory to those, who admire Roosevelt's policies, but do not like his academic discussion of public questions and his method of putting forward every issue on its moral significance. Hughes does things without talking; but we doubt, whether Hughes could have been a political possibility without the awakening of the moral sense of the people by Roosevelt and we are quite sure the most implacable enemies of Roosevelt, are those speculators and stock manipulators of New York, whose emergency currency proposition, was denounced by the class of bankers, that represent the commercial and industrial interests of the country.

School Trustee Barnes is to be congratulated on selecting for the new Rowlandtown school building a name from literature instead of politics.

WHAT THEY SAY ABOUT PADUCAHANS

The Courier-Journal says:

"Mr. Bryan and Senator Campbell met after the speaking in the dining-room of the Capital hotel. Mr. Bryan walked over to where Senator Campbell was sitting and shook hands with him. They talked for a few minutes and Mr. Bryan said that he was anxious to know more about the conditions which brought about the deadlock and the conditions in Kentucky. He asked Senator Campbell to write to him and tell him what are the reasons for not electing Beckham to the senate. Senator Campbell promises to write to him fully on the subject, and Mr. Bryan said that he would reply."

"The letter will not be written for several days, however, as Senator Campbell wants time to prepare the letter carefully. Mr. Bryan said to Senator Campbell: 'Don't elect a Republican,' and Senator Campbell said they did not intend to elect a Republican."

"Mr. Bryan came to Kentucky to urge the election of Mr. Beckham, it was given out by Beckham followers, but in the speech which he made he dwelt almost entirely on the necessity of sending a Democrat to the senate so that one more vote for needed legislation could be secured."

The Louisville Evening Post says: "Representative Graves, of Paducah, has been entertaining a number of friends from his home city for a few days. All of them are well known Democrats, and they came to endorse his stand on the senatorship. Among those here were Magistrates C. W. Emery, John Thompson, G. R. Broadfoot, County Attorney A. W. Barkley, F. H. Gholson and J. J. Hiech. These gentlemen, especially those who are magistrates, are interested in the proposed measure taking from juries the responsibility of caring for the court house."

The Times says: "Senator Wheeler Campbell, of Paducah, one of the members who is leading in the fight to prevent Beckham's election to the United States senate, received a telegram from Gov. J. C. S. Blackburn, of the Panama canal zone, endorsing his stand. The message reads: 'Have always been proud of you, but now more than ever.'"

Conspirators Arrested.
St. Petersburg, Jan. 23.—A dispatch from Kiev reports the arrest there of a man and woman who have just arrived from Geneva, Switzerland, with a plan for the general distribution of arms and ammunition in Russia. The authorities captured also a considerable quantity of weapons.

Patrons Were Neglected.
Chicago, Jan. 23.—Failure to present patrons with Christmas presents of bottles of whiskey resulted in a quarrel which ended in the killing of Henry Wiekenski, a saloonkeeper and a trustee of Hammond, Ind. He was shot by George Pollas and Tony Liscula, who were arrested.

CHAPTER X.

U creek the three negroes fled, past other camps, to where the stream branched. Here they took to the right and urged their horses along a forsaken trail to the headwaters of the little tributary and over the low saddle. They had endeavored to reach infrequent paths as soon as possible in order that they might pass unnoticed. Before quitting the valley they halted their heavy horses and, selecting a stagnant pool, scoured the grease paint from their features as best they could. Their ears were strained for sounds of pursuit, but as the moments passed and none came the tension eased somewhat, and they conversed guardedly.

As the morning light spread they crossed the moss-capped summit of the range, but tenses again, and, rounding two saddles, hid them among the rocks. Slayjack left the others here and rode southward down the Dry Creek trail toward town, while the partners shifted part of the weight from the overhauled pack mules to the remaining saddle animals and continued eastward along the barren comb of hills on foot, leading the five horses.

"It don't seem like we'll get away this easy," said Dexty, scanning the back trail. "If we do, I'll be tempted to follow the business regular. This grease paint on my face makes me smell like a minstrel man. I bet we'll get some bully press notices to boot."

"I wonder what Helen was doing there," Glenister answered irrelevantly, for he had been more shaken by his encounter with her than his part in the rest of the enterprise, and his mind, which should have been busied with the flight, held nothing but pictures of her as she stood in the half darkness under the fear of his Winchester. "What if she ever learned who that black ruffian was?" He quailed at the thought.

"Say, Dexty, I am going to marry that girl."

"I dunno if you be or not," said Dexty. "Better watch McNamara."

"What?" The younger man stopped and stared. "What do you mean?"

"Go on. Don't stop the horses. I ain't blind. I kin put two an' two together."

"You'll never put those two together. Nonsense! Why, the man's a rascal. I wouldn't let him have her. Besides, it couldn't be. She'll find him out. I love her so much that—oh, my feelings are too big to talk about." He moved his hands eloquently. "You can't understand."

"Um—! I s'pose not," grunted Dexty, but his eyes were level and held the light of the past.

"He may be a rascal," the old man continued, after a little. "I'll put it with you on that, but he's a handsome devil, and as for manners he makes you look like a log. He's a brave man too. Them three qualities are trump cards and warranted to take most any queen in the human deck—red, white or yellow."

"If he dares," growled Glenister, while his thick brows came forward, and ugly lines hardened in his face.

In the gray of the early morning they descended the foothills into the wide valley of the Noma river and fled out across the rolling country to the river bluffs where, cleverly concealed among the willows, was a rocker. This they set up, then proceeded to wash the dirt from the sacks carefully, yet with the utmost speed, for there was serious danger of discovery.

It was wonderful, this treasure of the richest ground since the days of '40, and the men worked with shining eyes and hands a tremble. The gold was coarse, and many a goodly lump, too large to pass through the screen, rolled in the gutter, while the aprons boiled with its weight. In the pans which they had provided there grew a gleaming heap of wet, raw gold.

Shortly by divergent routes, the partners rode unnoticed into town and into the excitement of the holiday news, while the tardy still lingered over their breakfasts. Far out in the roadstead lay the Roanoke, black smoke pouring from her stack. A tug was returning from its last trip to her.

Glenister forced his lathered horse down to the beach and questioned the longshoremen who hung about.

"No. It's too late to get aboard—the last tender is on its way back," they informed him. "If you want to go to the 'outside,' you'll have to wait for the next one. That only means another week, and—there she blows now."

A ribbon of white mingled with the velvet from the steamer's funnel, and there came a slow, throbbing, farewell blast.

Glenister's jaw clicked and squared. "Quick, you men!" he cried to the sailors. "I want the lightest dory on the beach and the strongest oarsmen in the crowd. I'll be back in five minutes. There's a hundred dollars in it for you if we catch that ship."

He whirled and spurred up through the mud of the streets. Bill Wheaton was snoring luxuriously when wrenched from his bed by a disheveled man who shook him into wakefulness and with a portion of his clothes, with a storm of excited instructions. The lawyer had neither time nor opportunity for expostulation, for Glenister snatched a valise and swept into it a litter of documents from the table.

"Hurry up, man!" he yelled, as the lawyer dived frantically about his office in a rabbit-like hunt for items. "My heavens, are you dead? Wake up! The ship's leaving." With sleep still in his eyes, Wheaton was dragged down the street to the beach, where a knot had assembled to witness the race. As they tumbled into the skiff, willing hands ran it out into the surf on the crest of a roller. A few lifting heaves and they were over the bar with the men at the oars bending the white ash at every swing.

"I guess I didn't forget anything," Glenister said as he put on his coat. "I got ready yesterday, but I couldn't find you last night, so I thought the deal was off."

Glenister stripped off his coat and, facing the bow, pushed upon the oars at every stroke, thus adding his strength to that of the oarsmen. They crept rapidly out from the beach, eating up the two miles that lay toward the ship. He urged the men with all his power till the sweat soaked through their clothes and, under their clinging shirts, the muscles stood out like iron. They had covered half the distance when Wheaton uttered a cry and Glenister desisted from his work with a curse. The Roanoke was moving slowly.

The rowers rested, but the young man shouted at them to begin again and, seizing a long hook, stuck it into the arm of his coat. He waved this on high while the men redoubled their efforts. For many moments they hung in suspense, watching the black hull as it gathered speed, and then, as they were about to cease their effort, a puff of steam burst from its whistle and the next moment a short burst of recognition reached them. Glenister wiped the moisture from his brow and grinned at Wheaton.

A quarter of an hour later as they lay heaving below the ship's steel sides, he thrust a heavy buckskin sack into the lawyer's hand.

Our Great White Goods Sale

Continues With Added Values

Friday and Saturday

OWING to the tremendous success of our white goods sale, and the fact that many of our customers did not get the opportunity to take advantage of the greatly reduced prices on Table Linens, Towels, Embroideries, Domestic, Sheetings, etc., we shall continue the sale for the remainder of the week. GIRL ESCAPES JAIL FOR DEBT.

School Teacher Secures Temporary Writ of Habeas Corpus.

Champaign, Ill., Jan. 23.—Miss Annie Kelly, a young school teacher of Tolono, was the happiest person in Champaign county today when she learned that Federal Judge Francis M. Wright had issued a temporary writ of habeas corpus, which keeps her out of the jail for the present.

Miss Kelly entered the bankruptcy court to escape judgment taken jointly against her and Professor Sherman Calk, who was principal of the Tolono schools, for damages against them for alleged injuries to Michael Burke, school boy whom they whipped. Professor Calk has been in jail since last September and the Burke family is paying his board, $3.50, regularly each week.

While Judge Wright's action is not conclusive, Miss Kelly is much encouraged and feels that she will not have to go to jail for the debt.

MIX UP THE GRADES.

Night Riders Scatter a Farmer's Tobacco.

Falmouth, Ky., Jan. 23.—Night riders visited the barn of H. T. Drake Saturday and scattered the tobacco over the barn.

Mr. H. Wright had raised the crop

He took some samples to Cynthiana for the purpose of selling the crop, and upon returning, went to work and baled his crop.

It is supposed some one saw him taking his samples to Cynthiana, and upon returning without them they supposed he had sold the crop.

At night the riders came and threw his tobacco all over the barn. Mixing up the grades.

They wrote a message upon a board and nailed it in a conspicuous place: "Hang up or we hang."

The Globe gives a written statement from Mr. Suzuki, as a Japanese expert critic, that is most favorable to "Funhashi." In every particular. He pays a high compliment to the Japanese acting and effect, the gaudy girls, and says all is "as realistic as they are in Japan, including even smallest details." He makes appreciative mention of the American-Japanese aspect and humor of the general Secretary of War Taft and compliments "the author, librettist and the one who wrote the lyrics" individually, concluding with: "On the whole I can surely predict that 'Funhashi' will take a strong hold on the public and should continue to enjoy a long run."

Annual Concert a Success.

A large and appreciative audience filled the High school auditorium last evening in honor of the concert given under the auspices of the Paducah Alumni association. It was quite a notable musical event and the delightful program was encoered every number, an enthusiastic tribute to the high class of music presented by some of Paducah's favorite talent. The concert was under the direction of Miss Mayme Dryfuss, who assisted the Alumni committee, Mrs. Louis M. Rieke and Mrs. Hal Corbett, giving her personal supervision to all the musical details.

The program was announced by Mr. Saunders Fowler, who was especially happy in his little presentation speeches. In excusing the High school orchestra number, owing to the absence of the second violin, Mr. Fowler said very cleverly that "their inability to appear should be comfort to those people who through life felt that they occupied only secondary places, here was a whole orchestra unable to play because of the second fiddle."

The opening and closing numbers were beautiful double quartet features. The chorus from "In a Persian Garden" and "Wynken, Blynken and Nod," rendered by Mesdames Lewis, Gray, Wells, Hart and Messrs. Mall, Robinson, Bagley and MacMillen. Mrs. George H. Hart gave an attractive piano solo from Moskowski. Miss Mayme Dryfuss sang "Nymphs and Fauns" very charmingly. Miss Aline Bagley's violin solo "Il Trovatore," was played with all Miss Bagley's sympathetic charm. Mrs. James Wells sang superbly "From the Desert I Came." Mr. Robert D. MacMillen scored a hit with "The Two Grenadiers," and as an encore sang "Good By, Little Girl, Good By."

"When We Were Maying" was delightfully sung by Mrs. Lella Wade Lewis and Mrs. W. C. Gray. Miss Adah Brazelton and Miss Courtie Puryear gave a brilliant piano duet.

The concert was for the benefit of the manual training fund and a nice sum was realized by the Alumni, though it is not yet known the exact amount. One hundred dollars is desired immediately in order to place manual training in the schools with the February session.

"Miss Grinter will be married in a traveling suit and it is an imported gown of dark blue cloth. She will wear a blue hat trimmed in pink roses, and will carry a bouquet of pink roses."

"Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dallam, of Henderson, and Mrs. George Cobb, of Chicago, brother and sister of Mr. Dallam, are here for the wedding and are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Grinter."

"Mr. and Mrs. Dallam will leave this evening for the east on their wedding trip, and upon their return will be at Mr. Dallam's apartment in the Weisinger, for a few weeks, before going to housekeeping in Governor and Mrs. Augustus Willson's home on Fourth avenue."

The bride was very handsome in a becoming suit of brown velvet, with hat, gloves and shoes of harmonizing shades. She carried a shower bouquet of white hyacinths and roses.

OLD SORES FED AND KEPT OPEN BY IMPURITIES IN THE BLOOD.

If Old Sores were due to outside influences, or if the cause was confined strictly to the diseased flesh around the ulcer, then external treatment and simple cleanliness would cure them. But the trouble is in the blood, which has become unhealthy and diseased, and keeps the sore open by continually discharging into it the impurities and poisons with which the circulation is filled. This poisonous condition of the blood may be the remains of some constitutional trouble; the effect of a long spell of sickness, or because the natural refuse of the body, which should pass off through the proper avenues, has been left in the system and absorbed into the blood. Again, the cause may be hereditary; but it does not matter how the poison becomes entrenched in the blood, the fact that the sore will not heal is evidence of a deep underlying cause. Salves, washes, lotions, etc., may cause the place to scab over temporarily, but the blood is not made any purer by such treatment, and soon the old inflammation and discharge will return and the sore be as bad or worse than before. S. S. S. goes down to the very bottom of the trouble, cleanses and purifies the blood, and makes a permanent cure. S. S. S. enriches and freshens the circulation so that instead of discharging unhealthy matter into the place, it carries rich, tissue-building, flesh-healing blood to the diseased parts and in every way assists in a natural cure of the sore. TO PREVENT SCRAPING.

Farmer Pats Up Sign Marking Lot—One Bed.

Maysville, Ky., Jan. 22.—A pointer that shows how the feeling is in this county on the raising of tobacco this year, and that there is a determination on the part of some to see that none is raised if it can be prevented, came to light by a farmer in a prominent Equity neighborhood, who fully believes there will be trouble should anyone attempt to make a tobacco plant bed. This particular farmer desired to have some early lettuce, and he accordingly made a large bed, planted the lettuce seed and then had it covered with the regulation tobacco canvas. Several days after it had been planted and dired he thought that someone might take it for a tobacco bed, so in order to set things right he got a pot of black paint and made the following sign on the canvas in large black letters: "This is a lettuce bed."

People soon forgot the good advice of the farmer, but they never forgot the other kind.

OUT OF WORK

SOCIALISTS DEMONSTRATE IN STREETS OF BERLIN.

Police Charge Crowd and Wound Many—60,000 Men are Idle.

Berlin, Jan. 22.—Serious rioting occurred in the vicinity of the Reichstag building where the Socialists' interpellation regarding the Prussian suffrage system was scheduled to come up. About 1 o'clock in the afternoon some 2,500 persons, mostly unemployed men and half-grown boys, marched through the streets, intending to reach the Reichstag, but found the 'bridges' over the Spree strongly occupied by police who soon summoned a mounted division to assist in dispersing the crowd.

When a part of the mob reached the new opera house they began to hurl bricks at the police, who thereupon drew their sabres, striking here and there among the rioters with the flat of the blades. A boy fired a pistol, the bullet striking a policeman, but not seriously injuring him. Workmen in the upper stories of the theatre threw brick bats down upon the police, who in turn charged savagely upon those of the rioters that they could reach.

A large number of the rioters were severely wounded by the officers. Sixteen of them were carried to a nearby charity hospital and many others man aged to make their way there with some assistance to have their wounds treated. Extra surgeons had to be summoned to assist in the work. Some of the injured are in a serious condition. They were cut mainly about the head and arms, but several of them had been stabbed through the chest. Those who were least seriously injured made their escape to other quarters.

Ten policemen went to headquarters for treatment, having been bruised and cut by bricks and stones. One had a wrist broken.

Later in the afternoon another demonstration occurred in Koenigsplatz, about a mile distant from the Reichstag building, where about 500 persons started serious rioting. Before they succeeded in doing much damage, however, the police there were re-enforced strongly. They made several arrests and dispersed the crowd.

From estimates made at a number of meetings of the unemployed today it appears that there are 60,000 men without work in Berlin.

OGLESBY BILL

LAW OF 1900 DEFEATED BY LARGE MAJORITY.

Senate Expected to Pass Oglesby Bill Today Without Emergency Clause.

Springfield, Jan. 22.—The house yesterday afternoon after a four hours' debate called the primary election bill, which was the primary election conference committee, and with the emergency clause stricken out. Several Republicans and a large majority of the Democrats voted against the measure.

The senate adjourned to third read-

This woman says that sick women should not fail to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as she did.

Mrs. A. Gregory, of 2355 Lawrence St., Denver, Col., writes to Mrs. Pinkham: "I was practically an invalid for six years, on account of female troubles. I underwent an operation by the doctor's advice, but in a few months I was worse than before. A friend advised Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it restored me to perfect health, such as I have not enjoyed in many years. Any woman suffering as I did with backache, bearing-down pains, and periodic pains, should not fail to use Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has positively cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness or nervous prostration. Why don't you try it?

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health. Address, Lynn, Mass.

ing the senate bill, P. L. H. introduced by Senator Jones, which is the Oglesby bill, as amended by the first conference committee, with the emergency clause stricken out, and the rate of the primaries this year advanced to August 8. The senate will very likely pass the bill. It will then go to the house which will very likely pass the measure.

The house by a vote of 73 yeas to 16 nays killed the Patton (Democratic) primary election bill. A motion by Lindy that it was the sense of the house that the original Oglesby bill before it was amended, he supported by the house, was lost, 46 yeas to 57 nays.

AT BRYAN

JUDGE ALTON B. PARKER GETS BACK AT HIM.

Refers to 1902 When Bryan Followed Thru to Knife Anybody Else.

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 22.—Alton B. Parker was shown an extract from the speech of William J. Bryan before the Kentucky legislature in which Bryan was quoted as saying that in 1904 he "took his medicine in Parker. Parker was the man above all others I did not want."

"What a pity," said Parker, "Bryan failed to be equally frank in 1903. Had he been so the situation of the party would be vastly better than it is. There were but few Democrats that year who thought it wise to have a third term candidate. But every man of sense knew that unless a man could be found who would receive Bryan's support his warm personal following would seek revenge for the defeat of 1896 and 1900."

Parker says Bryan objected to Cleveland, Hill, Gorman and Gray, and said he would not oppose Parker, but when the delegates began to be elected favorable to him "Bryan started on his famous tour of denunciation. The dragon's teeth which he then sowed yielded an abundant harvest, my all that he could wish."

BANK EXAMINERS

PROVIDED FOR IN BILL INTRODUCED IN HOUSE.

Two Districts to Be Covered By Parliament of Two Members.

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 22.—Representative J. A. Sullivan has introduced in the house the following bill governing banks and providing for state examination of state banks:

An act to create a board of state bank examiners, defining their duties, regulating their manner of appointment and removal, and authorizing the examination of all banks, trust companies, savings banks and combined banks and trust companies organized under the laws of the commonwealth.

He it enacted by the general assembly of the commonwealth of Kentucky:

First—That there is created a board of bank examiners, which shall be composed of two competent and suitable persons, who shall be appointed by the governor, with the advice and consent of the senate, and who shall be selected one from each of the two political parties casting the highest vote in the general state election.

During each regular session of the general assembly one state bank examiner shall be so appointed, who shall hold office for four years from the first day of May following his appointment and confirmation by the senate.

Each state bank examiner shall visit and examine annually, or oftener if required by the secretary of state, every state bank, savings bank and every combined bank and trust company organized under the laws of this state, in the presence of one or more of its officers, to ascertain whether it has been managed according to law; he shall have power to make a thorough examination into all of its affairs, and, in doing so, to examine any of its officers or agents on oath, and shall, without delay, make a full report of the condition thereof to the secretary of state.

A state bank examiner shall not impart any information of the examination made by him, except so far as may be necessary in the performance of his official duties.

The state of Kentucky is divided into two state bank examiners' districts, one of which is called the eastern district and the other the western district, and which districts, respectively, shall correspond with and include the same counties constituting the eastern and western Kentucky state normal school districts, and the secretary of state shall prescribe the order in which each bank examiner shall examine the institutions in said two districts; but no institution shall be twice examined, in succession by the same examiner, unless so directed by the secretary of state.

No officer of any bank, savings bank or trust company, or combined bank and trust company shall be eligible to hold the office of, or act as state bank examiner, and if any state bank examiner becomes indebted to any bank, savings bank, trust company or combined bank and trust company chartered under the laws of this state, or shall become interested in the sale of securities as a business, or in the negotiation of loans for others, his office shall become vacant.

Recovered Lands.

The interior department has recovered in one year 2,372,223 acres of public land claimed under fraudulent entries or unlawfully freed in. That is evidence enough that the government is not pursuing a false trail or using trumped-up accusations in its general prosecution of fraudulent entry cases.—New York Tribune.

The right kind of a man doesn't go around boasting that he is right.

New York Board of Aldermen Prohibits Smoking in Public Places.

New York, Jan. 23.—Women will not be permitted to smoke in New York restaurants and other public places. This question was definitely settled for the present at least, by the board of aldermen when an ordinance directed against women smoking in public places was adopted. Tactful permission had been given for women to smoke in several of the Broadway restaurants since New Year's eve, when the proprietor of one of the well-known restaurants first suspended the order against it.

Women seldom play a game unless there is a deeper game beneath it.

The navy department has decided to send the gunboat Paducah now at New Orleans to Haytian waters during the revolutionary troubles instead of the cruiser Des Moines as first intended.
